

Naturally, being at camp is green in itself...
being aware of the outdoors and the environment;
appreciating the sights, sounds and smells of the outdoors, the sunshine, rain, night sky, morning dew or just a bird chirping Camp is naturally what green is about.

Although camp in general has been environmentally minded for years, we have turned up awareness a bit...and everyone is getting involved.

We recycle containers, newspapers, batteries and boxes, and we have recycling bins throughout camp.

Staff carpooling is encouraged and we all pitch in with litter, turning off lights, identifying water leaks and not wasting food.

Camp already uses mostly fluorescent bulbs, and as our current incandescent stock is depleted, we will only replace with CFLs and then eventually as the technology improves, LEDs.

GO GREEN!
